ELMO ANDERSON

Elmo Anderson, state fire instructor, spoke at the Lions Club luncheon Monday at Town & Country restaurant. He discussed, "What Your Fire Department Means to You."

The first responsibility of a fire department is the protection of lives and property, he said. The training of fire departments and educating the public is an important part of the work of all fire departments. Fire Prevention week is observed all over the U.S. every October. This observance started 46 years ago as fire prevention day and has now become fire prevention week. The date selected marks the anniversary of the Great Chicago fire of Oct. 9, 1871.

Mr. Anderson listed five objectives for the fire department, prevent fires from starting; prevent loss of lives and property; confine fires that do start to place of origin; obtain best possible insurance rates for the city through well trained and sufficient manpower and best possible equipment.

At the conclusion of his talk he said there had been about 30 disastrous fires and 20 lives lost at the present rate prevailing in the U.S. and Canada.

Jim Cobb had the program for the day, Lion Joe Mahan from Camden was a guest.

The annual Christmas auction and the possibility of chartering a bus for the national convention was discussed in a brief business session.

Court to Take Up Appointments

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court took under advisement Monday a case which could pave the way for Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to appoint a five-member Arkansas Dairy Commission to regulate the state's dairy industry.

The Supreme Court will decide whether petitions to refer the state milk price control act to a vote in the 1968 general election were in good order.

State Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton sponsored the act which was passed by the Arkansas General Assembly earlier this year. A group headed by L. C. Baber and Waldo Frasier of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation circulated petitions to refer the act to the electorate.

An original action which contends that the ballot title of the referendum was defective was then filed in the Supreme Court by Fletcher, who asked the court to keep the act from being placed on the general election ballot.

Fletcher says monopolies and bad trade practices exist in the industry.

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset New License System Is Implemented

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' 950,000 drivers will receive their 1968 and, in instances, their 1969 licenses within the next two weeks under a new renewal system being implemented by the Revenue Department.

The licenses will be mailed from the Little Rock Post Office on Nov. 29. Since Nov. 2, the Revenue Department has been delivering letters carrying the licenses to the post office for presorting.

Drivers will have to carry the licenses to local revenue offices for validation and payment of the license fee—$2 if the license is for one year and $4 if it is for two.

The system will end the long lines that have been traditional with license renewal in revenue offices each January.

The Revenue Department said that about half of the licenses being mailed are for one year and half for two years so that renewal will be staggered in future years.

After this year, each driver will renew his license on his birthday each two years.

Recall Route Channels Outlined

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Ola Farwell, a member of the Carroll County Election Commission, was informed Monday of the proper channels by which the city clerk and the mayor should be recalled.

The attorney general's office said that petitions for the recall of the mayor should be presented to the city clerk and that petitions to recall the clerk should be presented to the mayor. Farwell asked for the opinion Oct. 2 after a group of residents had raised petitions for the recall of Mayor Jan Bullock and City Clerk Albert Harp. Bullock resigned three days after the petitions were filed but his resignation does not become effective until today.

A member of the group seeking the ouster of Bullock and Harp said Monday night the petitions had not been presented to either man because it was felt they would reject them.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Tomanner said that if the petitions were rejected that the remedy then was an indictment for nonfeasance in office for failing to carry out official responsibilities. The Circuit Court could remove an official after such a hearing.

Tanner said Eureka Springs is the only city with recall provisions and is the only city in Arkansas with the commission form of government.

The petitions contend that the officials refused to call a special election and have not conducted the city's affairs in a businesslike way.

Sylvia Gene of Philadelphia bowled the first perfect 300 game ever scored by a woman in match game competition.

CART BEFORE THE HORSE

Dear Helen: When I read about all the divorces and wife-swapping and things, I sometimes get to wondering if modern people haven't got the cart before the horse.

Kids who go steady wouldn't step out on each other. The "teen code" says you're a two-timer if you date others while wearing a boy's ring. And other guys don't ask because you're off limits.

But then you get married, and right away a lot of people start flirting around and changing partners. You may even be considered "square" if you're true to your mate.

I know a couple who went steady all through high school and never looked at anybody else. They've been married a year, and she's getting a divorce because she says he was untrue to her, but it's really because she also found someone she liked better.—OBSERVER

Dear Observer: It is sure! If more couples would "go steady" after marriage divorces would go out of style.—H.

Dear Helen: Last summer I was lucky enough to work in Bryce Canyon National Park. While there I went with a girl from that area. I was never very serious about her as I like a girl from my home town.

But the Bryce Canyon girl writes that she isn't going to date anyone else till I come back next summer, and signs off with "Love always."

I don't want to hurt her feelings, but how do I turn her off? —BUD

Dear Bud: You can either stop writing, which is kinda cruel, or send the girl a we'll always be friends" letter, urging her to date others as summer is a long time off. I'll bet she'll be telling you about her new boyfriend by Christmas.—H.

Dear Helen: I just can't please my mother. When I roll my hair she complains I spend too much time primping. If I don't roll it she says it looks awful.

She complained because I'm not in many activities, but when I got on the pep team this year, she gripes because I have to go to meetings, games, etc.

Now it's my grades. Last year I was a "bookworm", and it was "Why don't you get out with the kids more?" My grades slipped a little this term, and she hit the ceiling and she threatens to ground me.—HOW CAN I WIN?

Dear How: You're winning, honey, and perhaps your mother's nagging has something to do with it. Too bad she doesn't see that praise would get you farther faster, but then some parents operate on the "complain to conquer" theory.

I doubt that your mother will ground you for a slight drop in grades, but she'll keep pushing and prodding because she wants to be proud of you—even though she may never admit that she is.—H.

Dear Helen: What can you send a fellow in Vietnam for Christmas?—STUMPED

Dear Stumped: How about playing cards or games, paperback books, magazines or a subscription to his hometown newspaper, a recent picture of you in a new wallet, or stationery with self-sealing envelopes. And mail your gifts. Right now! Surface mail should have been posted by November 10, but you can still make the airmail deadline, which is December 10. So, get busy!—H.

Fine Hair Needs Care
Fine hair calls for accentuating the positive, eliminating the negative. On the plus side are its soft, silky qualities; to be eliminated is the lack of body. To do this, you must achieve an illusion of thickness beginning with the right hairstyle. The extra short cuts, currently gaining popularity, are ideal since the weight of longer hair tends to pull and make fine hair appear thinner. Should you decide on a new style, be sure to have it done professionally.

Fort Smith Rated Tops in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Springdale closed out its season last week with a 26-19 victory over Texarkana and moved into third place in the Associated Press Arkansas High School Football Poll.

The Bulldogs will have to depend on outside help to make any further progress in the poll. Fort Smith Northside, a 26-7 winner over North Little Rock, drew all 14 first place votes in this week's poll. Only cross-town rival Fort Smith Southside remains between the Grizzlies and an undefeated season. Little Rock Hall is still No. 2 but the warriors have Little Rock McClellan and Little Rock Central to play.

Texarkana fell from third to fourth and North Little Rock remained fifth. Conway, which beat Benton 13-0, moved up from seventh to sixth and Little Rock Central, a 26-0 loser to Pine Bluff, dropped from sixth to seventh.

Class AA Malvern and two Class AAA teams, Pine Bluff and El Dorado, wound up in a three-way tie for eighth. Malvern was ranked tenth last week prior to its 28-0 victory over Smackover.

Pine Bluff moved back into the select group on the basis of its victory over Central. El Dorado was beaten 26-7 by Forrest City, fell from the top ten.

Conway drew 13 first place votes and continues to lead the Class AA rankings. Malvern moved up to second and Forrest City gained third spot. Malvern still has to play Camden Fairview, Conway and Forrest City have completed their seasons.

Fordyce missed by one point of being a unanimous choice in Class A. The Redbugs finish their season this week against Star City. Berryville remained second and Nashville, which wound up 9-1, is still third. Berryville plays Atkins this week.

Stamps, Gillett and Gentry, all unbeaten and untied, rank one-two-three in Class B.

Grid Hall of Famer Is Dead at 71

Lady Cats Impressive in Warmup

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

In an interesting "sneak preview" at Jones Field House last night the Hope Lady Cats wound up their pre-season workouts with an impressive 42-15 victory over Prescott in a practice game.

Although the game didn't count on the teams' standings, both squads played inspired basketball, but the action became a little sloppy at times. The Lady Cats scored the first point and never trailed while freely substituting throughout the contest.

After leading 12-6 following the opening period, the Lady Cat guards, led by Nellie Churchwell, Donna Byers, Kay Coleman, and Jenny Callicott, held Prescott to nil in the second quarter, but the forwards were in the midst of a cold evening, and the locals led 21-6 at halftime.

The final two stanzas were played between mixed groups of starters and reserves, as Lady Cats Coach Charlotte Gibson tried to find six starters from her whole bevy of ladies. Prescott gave a good effort in defeat, however, and showed fine enthusiasm and competitive spirit to the end.

Carol Anthony led all scorers for the Lady Cats with 18 points, followed by Kathryn Coleman, who bagged 11. Jo McKamie and Retha Adams added 4 apiece, and Gail Hartsfield had 3 and Mary Beth Millican two to round out the scoring. Brown paced Prescott with 7.

In the first game of the evening, the Hope Jr. High Kitty Cats suffered a 46-14 loss to the Prescott girls. The inexperienced locals fell behind early, and were plagued with cold shooting from the field.

Prescott shot 32 percent from the field, while the Kitty Cats, trailing 26-8 at the half, could not get untracked. Dee Singleton led the Hope attack with 11 points, and Belinda East scored 2 while Louise Kramer had 1. Lavender had 18 and Perry 11 to pace Prescott.

Both the Lady Cats and the Kitty Cats have been practicing since the first week of school, and from last year the Lady Cats have shown intense improvement in their interest in the game itself. A chance remains that they may not come through, but they must please too many local fans to do that.

The teams start their regular schedule Thursday night against Bradley at Jones Field House. The junior girls game will come first, with tip-off time set for 6:30 p.m. Remember to come out and support these fine teams during the 1967-68 season.

Hull Could Crash to Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — If Chicago's Bobby Hull continues his goal-a-game pace through this next month, he'll crash the National Hockey League's exclusive 400 Club before Christmas. Hull has blasted 14 goals in 14 games and needs 16 more to become the fourth 400-goal scorer in NHL history. At his current clip, the Black Hawks' left winger will reach the milestone on Dec. 16 — and then go on to shatter his own season record of 54 tallies set two years ago.

Detroit's Gordie Howe is the all-time leader with 659 career goals, including 10 this season. Former Montreal ace Maurice Richard, with 544, and Jean Beliveau, the Canadiens' current captain, with 406, are the other 400-plus snipers.

With three goals last week, Hull boosted his league-leading point total to 21, three more than runner-up Howe, who picked up a pair of assists during the week. Montreal's Yvan Cournoyer is third with 17 points, followed by Jean Ratelle of New York with 16.

Andy Bathgate of Pittsburgh and Billy Hicke of Oakland are the top scorers in the new West Division with eight goals and seven assists apiece.

Detroit center Alex Delvecchio, tied with five others for the seventh spot at 14 points, leads the playmakers with 13 assists.

Philadelphia's goalie tandem of Bernie Parent and Doug Favell have compiled a league leading goals-against mark of 2.06 per-game for the Flyers. Johnny Bower and Bruce Gamble of Toronto are second with a 2.27 average.

Defenseman Ted Green of Boston tops the penalty parade with 40 minutes, one more than his former teammate Joe Watson, now with Philadelphia.

UCLA Goes to Top in Grid Poll

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
UCLA surged into first place in the national college football rankings today, the major development in a shakeup of the Top Ten resulting primarily from another one of Oregon State's poll-axing performances. The Beavers' 3-0 victory over Southern California last Saturday helped UCLA climb into the No. 1 spot and dumped the Trojans into fourth place, the position vacated by the Bruins.

Oregon State also cut itself in for a slice of the Top Ten pie, taking over eighth place. The Beavers tied UCLA 16-16 on Nov. 4 and beat Purdue on Oct. 21, both at times when the Bruins and Boilermakers were rated second in the poll.

UCLA accumulated 19 votes for the top position and 419 points while Tennessee held second place, collecting 13 first place votes and 390 points in the latest Associated Press poll.

Purdue advanced two places to third, Indiana, Wyoming and Oklahoma each climbed one place, to fifth, sixth and seventh, respectively.

Notre Dame held ninth position followed by North Carolina State.

A total of 47 sports writers and broadcasters on a national panel participated in the latest balloting, conducted on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third etc.

UCLA rebounded from the Oregon State surprise by crushing Washington 48-0 last Saturday. Tennessee routed Tulane 35-14 for its sixth victory. The Volunteers' only setback was to UCLA in the season opener for both teams.

Purdue, 7-1, overwhelmed Minnesota 41-12. Southern California's loss to the giant-killing Beavers was its first of the campaign after eight victories. The Trojans were named the leading team on all except one ballot in last week's voting.

Indiana, unbeaten and untied in eight games, edged Michigan State 14-13. Wyoming, with a perfect record in nine games, routed New Mexico 42-6 while Oklahoma, 6-1, beat Iowa State 52-14. Notre Dame, the defending national champ, trounced Pittsburgh 38-0.

North Carolina State, third a week ago, fell to 10th after losing to Penn State 13-8. Oregon State replaced Houston in the rankings. The Cougars dropped out despite a 35-18 victory over Memphis State.

UCLA takes on Southern Cal this Saturday in a game that will decide which will be the West Coast Rose Bowl representative. It's the Trojans' final game of the regular campaign.

Wyoming, Oregon State and North Carolina State also wind up their seasons, the Cowboys against the University of Texas at El Paso, the Beavers with Oregon and the Wolfpack against Clemson.

Other games involving ranked teams are: Tennessee-Mississippi, Purdue-Michigan State, Indiana-Minnesota, Oklahoma-Kansas and Notre Dame-Georgia Tech.

Army Could Go to Bowl With a Win

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The college football bowl picture still stands shrouded in fog today, but it should clear Saturday and surprising Army is expected to march out of the haze with its first postseason date in history.

All Army, with a 7-1 record, has to do is beat Pittsburgh — and it is heavily favored to do so — Saturday and Sugar Bowl officials are almost certain to invite the Cadets to play in New Orleans on New Year's Day. And Army might break precedent and accept.

"We're the only service academy that has not played in a bowl," Col. Jerry Capka, athletic director at the U.S. Military Academy, said Monday at West Point, N.Y., after acknowledging that Army has had feelers.

"We have no policy against it. Our attitude is that we will wait until we get a bid and then consider it on its merits."

Tennessee and Oklahoma, should they get by rougher opponents Saturday, are sure to be marching alongside Army Monday, the day bids can be received and accepted under NCAA rules. They must wait until the Monday after the third playing Saturday in November.

Tennessee can all but wrap up the Southeastern Conference title by beating Mississippi and Oklahoma can do the same in the Big Eight with a victory over Kansas.

If that's the way it turns out, Orange Bowl officials will be beating at the doors to match up the Vols, 6-1, and Sooners, 6-1, in Miami the night of Jan. 1, and both probably would accept. Should either stumble, Alabama, 6-1-1, North Carolina State, 8-1, Miami, 6-2, and Auburn, 6-2, are waiting eagerly in the shadows.

Those four teams also are possibilities for the Sugar Bowl, although one of its officials admits "Tennessee and Oklahoma are the most desirable bowl opponents in the country."

Auburn must first get by Georgia and North Carolina State by Clemson on Saturday and Miami by Notre Dame Nov. 24. If Army bows out of the picture, Penn State, 6-2, could step in.

Texas, 6-2, and Texas A&M, 4-4, probably will decide the Southwest Conference title and the Cotton Bowl host in Dallas when they meet on Thanksgiving Day.

The opponent? Take your pick between the teams previously mentioned.

One Rose Bowl team will come out of the clash between Southern California, 8-1, and UCLA, 7-0-1, Saturday for the Pacific-8 title and Indiana, 8-0, can wrap up the Big Ten championship and Pasadena trip by beating Minnesota, 6-2. But Minnesota still could take the title with a victory with Indiana facing Purdue, ineligible for the trip, the following Saturday.

The Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 30 can grab Wyoming, 9-0, with Penn State or Miami a likely opponent.

Fred Glaze Resigns as Head Coach

Head Football Coach Freddie Glaze has submitted his resignation effective immediately after three years as head coach of the Hope Bobcats.

Mr. Glaze said he will enter private business as Southwest Arkansas General Agent for the Paramount Life Insurance Co. of Arkansas. He and his family will continue to make their home in Hope.

Mr. Glaze expressed appreciation to "the people of Hope for their support. I feel I would rather coach here than any other place if I remained in the coaching field. But this is a business opportunity I can't afford to pass up. I'm looking forward to working with the people of Hope and area," he said.

He had coached here four years, three as head football coach. Previously he coached at Rison two years and served one year as athletic director of Fort Jackson, S.C.

During his tenure the Bobcats won 4 and lost 7 for 5th place in the district; won five and lost five, tied one for third in the district and had a two won, eight lost, one tie record this season.

King Keeps Lead in Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim King of the San Francisco Warriors maintained his lead in National Basketball Association scoring last week, according to statistics released today.

King has scored 374 points for a 23.4 average while Len Wilkens of St. Louis trails with 366 points. Bill Chamberlain of Philadelphia leads in field-goal percentage, hitting on 377 of his shots, while Nate Thurmond of San Francisco leads the rebounders with 24.6 per game.

Bob Weiss of Seattle is the free-throw leader with an 87.0 percentage and Wilkens leads in assists with 7.9 per game.

He'll Never Make a Longer Cage Shot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jerry Harkness may have made shots with a little more style, but he'll never make a longer one.

John Beasley's jump shot with one second remaining Monday night gave Dallas a one-point lead over Indiana in an American Basketball Association game and that would seem to have wrapped it up.

But the ball came in to Harkness near his own basket and he let it fly with one hand as the buzzer went off. Almost unbelievably it was on target all the way and went in, giving the Pacers a 119-118 victory.

In the only other ABA game, New Orleans topped Anaheim 106-98.

Indiana now is 2½ games in front in the ABA's Eastern Division. Fred Lewis was the Pacers' top scorer with 26 points, but Bob Verga and Cliff Hagan each had 30 for the Chipparals.

Doug Moe's 36 points led the Buccaneers to their triumph. Steve Kramer scored 24 for the Amigos.

A Winnipeg reader writes: "Here is a hand that caused a lot of trouble in a recent tournament I opened one club Partner responded one diamond West bid a spade and I raised to two diamonds Partner bid two hearts. I bid three clubs. he went to three diamonds and I passed. Everything broke nicely and he had no trouble making a slam. He felt that I should have bid more. I contend that I had opened with only 10 high card points and that he should have bid more with his 13. Should I have opened, and how should I have bid from then on?"

North surely should have opened the bidding. He only has 10 H C P but he has two aces, two singles and a seven-card suit that he can rebid if necessary. The bidding in the box shows how six could be reached. It starts out just the same way our friend started but we feel that he should not have passed at three diamonds.

When you open a hand with 7-11 distribution and your partner bids your four card suit your hand improves a lot. When he repeats his bid your hand moves up still further, and we think our reader should have rebid three spades.

The three spade call is one of those all purpose cue bids. It doesn't mean anything except that it is forcing. South doesn't know what it means but he has three no trump because he thinks that North Making his first try for mayor of Cleveland in 1965 as an independent, Stokes came within 2,143 votes of upsetting incumbent Ralph Locher. In 1967, he overwhelmed Locher in the Democratic primary and squared off against GOP nominee Seth Taft, grandson of a president. In a series of Kennedy Nixon style debates, Stokes and Taft, left, put their cases to the Cleveland electorate, two-thirds white. It was all over in the early hours of Nov. 8. With his wife Shirley, right, Stokes stood in the glare and noise of a victory celebration as final returns gave him the 2,500 vote victory.

GHETTO TO CITY HALL

The story has an up-to-date twist right out of racially troubled mid-century America. But it's still the same Horatio Alger plot. Carl Burton Stokes was born 40 years ago in Cleveland's Negro ghetto, the second son of a laundry worker and a cleaning woman. Today, world attention focuses on the slum boy who, with the aid of more than 40,000 white votes, has been elected mayor of the eighth largest U.S. city.

Carl at 13 months, in 1928, the year his father died. In ill-fitting issue, below, teenage Carl, a high school dropout, looked like thousands of other new GIs back in 1945. After service in Europe, he returned to school, a law degree and 1962 election, as the first Negro, to the legislature.

A very proud mother today, Louise Stokes once told the young Carl: "I hope you will do something with your head when you grow up. I've had to work with my hands all my life, and it's too hard."

may be showing something like queen-small in spades.

When North goes to four diamonds, South realizes that North was showing first, or maybe only second round spade control. In either case, South's king of clubs looks like the card to guarantee a slam and South jumps to six diamonds.

This looks easy when you see both hands. In practice, we wouldn't quarrel with a direct four-diamond bid by North. That would get the partnership to game at least, but we don't like North's pass of three diamonds.

GI Refusing to Go to War Is on Trial

By JACK SCHREIBMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A general court martial has sentenced Army Pvt. Ronald Lockman to 30 months at hard labor for refusing orders to go to Vietnam.

The court convicted and sentenced Lockman Monday after a trial punctuated by clashes between military police and anti-war demonstrators at the Presidio, 8th Army headquarters.

Seven demonstrators were arrested outside the courtroom. MPs carried six others from the court.

"I would do it again," declared Lockman, 23, a Philadelphia Negro, after hearing the sentence.

"My father had doubts about this, but I know for a fact that I was right."

The court officers deliberated only 11 minutes on convicting Lockman on two counts of refusing to obey lawful orders.

They pondered 20 minutes longer in deciding the 30 months sentence with dishonorable discharge. The maximum term is five years.

The case automatically will go to a military review board and can be carried to the Military Court of Appeals.

However, Stanley Faulkner, one of Lockman's attorneys, said a direct appeal will be made to the U.S. Supreme Court.

He said a habeas corpus action in the high court will protest the court martial's banning of any challenge of the constitutionality of the Vietnam war.

From the time of his Sept. 15 arrest for refusing to fly to Vietnam, Lockman has declared he believed the war to be illegal.

On the witness stand he said, "I could not subject myself to the atrocities being committed by our soldiers in Vietnam."

"We black people are oppressed. We have no business in a civil war."

Mrs. Vivian Williams, Lockman's mother, collapsed briefly in the court after hearing the prison sentence for her son.

Mrs. Williams and Lynette Polk, 20, of Philadelphia, Lockman's girl friend, sat by him with tear-filled eyes at a news conference after the trial.

Petitions Against the OEO Agency

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two petitions, one against the Pulaski County Economic Opportunity Agency and one in favor of the agency, were filed with the North Little Rock City Council Monday.

Lee Roberts filed the petitions opposing the agency. The petition included 76 signatures.

"This program moved in against the wishes of most of the neighbors," Roberts' petition said. "It is imposing on the people of the neighborhood, and is doing very little good."

The petition in favor of the agency was filed minutes later and was signed by 84 persons.

Mrs. Mary Mills of North Little Rock, one of the persons who staffs the center, said about 50 children were enrolled in the program. She said they spent various amounts of time studying and participating in other activities. Mrs. Mills said two school teachers and two college students work at the center at night helping children with their school work and other problems.

Assistant City Attorney Jim Wallace told the council it was his opinion that it couldn't do anything about the center if it were so inclined.

Justice Dept. Opinion Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart seeks a Justice Department opinion on the legality of stripping draft deferments from college students whose antiwar protests violate the law.

Hart, a Michigan Democrat, asked Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark to say whether cancellation of deferments—as recommended by draft chief Lewis B. Hershey—is a proper step in the case of college students who interfere with draft induction, some by destroying their draft cards.

The senator implied he felt Hershey's proposal was unconstitutional.

Atty. Gen. Hershey told the nation's 4,000 local draft boards in an Oct. 26 letter that student deferments were given in the national interest and "illegal activity which interferes with recruiting or causes refusal of duty in the military or naval forces could not by any stretch of the imagination be construed as being in support of the national interest."

Prisoners Welcomed on Return

By RICHARD DAW
Associated Press Writer

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Fellow Special Forces soldiers shouted "Welcome home" and embraced S. Sgt. James E. Jackson Monday night as he and two other U.S. Army sergeants returned to the United States after years of captivity by the Viet Cong.

The cheer for Jackson came from a trio of his comrades as he stepped off a military plane that returned him and M. Sgt. Daniel Lee Pitzer of Spring Lake, N.C., to Ft. Bragg.

Pitzer walked unsteadily and laid down on an ambulance stretcher. An Army official said he had a serious vitamin deficiency.

The third prisoner of war released in Cambodia Saturday M. Sgt. Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif., was removed from the plane in a stretcher at Washington, D.C., and taken to Walter Reed Army Hospital. He was reported suffering from dysentery and malnutrition.

The three sergeants were accompanied as far as New York by Thomas Hayden, a Newark, N.J., writer who brought them out of Cambodia. Hayden is a member of an American peace committee that also includes Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Dr. Benjamin Spock and singer Joan Baez.

King said the release was a gesture of goodwill toward American Negroes. Jackson and Johnson are Negroes.

"We appealed to the humanitarian instincts of the North Vietnamese," King said, adding that the committee hopes to aid in the release of additional U.S. prisoners.

Jackson smiled broadly, as three fellow Green Berets embraced him and slapped him on the back on his arrival at Ft. Bragg. Jackson, Pitzer and Johnson all received their Special Forces training at Bragg. Jackson accepted a cigarette but declined to answer questions about his captivity.

"It's been a long trip and I'm glad to be home," Jackson said. "The treatment on the trip has been A-No. 1."

Jackson's mother said her son "had the training (as a Green Beret) to fake a brainwashing job just to win his release." His father, a bus driver and mechanic, expressed confidence that his son would receive "all the care he needs" in U.S. military hospitals. Jackson's parents live in Talcott, W.Va.

At Ft. Bragg, Jackson's jubilant manner contrasted sharply with Pitzer, who walked down the plane's ramp with a halting step, looking drawn and pale. He spoke to no one and stretched out on a bed in the ambulance for the short trip to Womack Army Hospital on the Ft. Bragg post. His wife was waiting there but newsmen were barred from observing their reunion.

Earlier in the evening when Pitzer disembarked from a Pan American flight to Kennedy Airport in New York City, he had said: "I'm very glad to be at home. I'm looking forward to seeing my family."

The three sergeants had been kept under wraps in Cambodia after the news conference announcing their release Saturday. They arrived in Beirut aboard a Czechoslovak airliner Sunday and then flown to Rome and Paris before landing in New York.

Summerlike in State Past 2 Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The weather returned today to what is considered to be more appropriate for mid-November in Arkansas after residents enjoyed two days of summerlike temperatures.

A relatively cool air mass spread over the state early this morning and temperatures will run in the 60s for most of the state instead of the 70s and low 80s as has been the case.

By Wednesday morning, temperatures again will be in the low 30s for North Arkansas. No rainfall is in the forecast and there has been none in the state for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

Temperatures at El Dorado and Texarkana hit the 80-degree mark Monday, but Fort Smith recorded the highest in the state with an 81. Overnight lows ranged from 21 at Gilbert to 48 at Texarkana.

Sparse Population

North Dakota is one of the most sparsely populated states in the United States, with a population of 8.9 per square mile, as compared with 49.6 for the nation as a whole.

What Business Has Church With Power Politics?

In our United States we go the last mile in defending freedom of speech and press. Inevitably this freedom of the whole citizen body to speak out is sometimes abused by a few — especially the few who find themselves speaking to a captive audience.

There was a classic case of such abuse in Williamsburg, Va., last Sunday. President Lyndon B. Johnson sat with the worshippers in two centuries-old Bruton Parish Church. In the pulpit was one Rev. Dr. Cotesworth Pinckney — and the preacher denounced the President for his role in the Vietnam war.

Apparently there are some men who suddenly feel that they are God when addressing a captive audience who can't talk back. It's a phenomenon that occurs most frequently with professors speaking to students, or preachers "talking politics" in church.

Williamsburg was a case classic because a preacher was talking directly to the President. It made all lovers of liberty wince — for the Rev. Dr. Pinckney convicted himself of using sacred ground on which to exercise his native rudeness and bad taste.

Few have denounced President Johnson on domestic issues more often than your editor, and that may be the source of the anger I feel toward the Rev. Dr. Pinckney — the lunthead denounced Mr. Johnson under circumstances precisely calculated to make sympathizers for Mr. Johnson.

You fight a political foe openly, on the rostrum, in the press, or on the avenue — but you don't denounce him to his face in a classroom or church where communication is strictly a one-way street.

Gov. Mills E. Godwin of Virginia covered the shame of Williamsburg appropriately with this paragraph in a letter to the President:

"The President of the United States is always welcome in Virginia and the people would always desire he be shown every courtesy."

There is mischief enough in our land already without irresponsible preachers inviting demonstration and disorder by saying in the church words that provoke debate outside the church.

Washington School Gets $31,614

Washington School District at Washington has received final approval for funds amounting to $31,614 under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act for 1967-68, Associate Commissioner, Wm. H. Moore, who is in charge of Federal Programs for the State Department of Education, has announced.

The Washington school Title I program will include reading, and mathematics under instruction and attendance, clothing and food under personal services.

Construction amounting to $8,000 is provided for in the project which will be used for a portable building to be used as a remedial reading classroom.

Moore said that the Washington allocation was based on the number of economically disadvantaged children in the district. It is used for remedial, supplementary, and personal services as needed by the individual child to enable him to overcome learning handicaps so that he may achieve at a normal level.

Arkansas is receiving $20,201,473 under Title I this year to be distributed among the state's 387 eligible districts.

Double Talk Is When You Say One Thing But Think Another

By HAI BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Isn't it about time we had another drill in double talk?

Mustn't get rusty in this vital art, you know, or we may lose our social pulse.

Double talk, of course, is the saying of one thing while you're thinking another, usually something exactly opposite. It allows one to be socially acceptable, even widely welcomed while it also enables one to retain his inner honesty intact.

Some may quibble that double talk is a form of hypocrisy, and indeed it is. But it is often the kind of necessary hypocrisy that salvages our civilization and keeps our sanity. Anyone who never indulges in the protective camouflage of double talk will wind up a pariah or a hermit.

For those seeking to acquire at least a rudimentary skill in double talk here are a few conventional examples of it in quotes followed by a literal translation of what the sayer was really thinking.

Economists Vow That Inflation Will Come Unless Tax Is Hiked

Students Riot, Guards Called Out

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) — Students threw stones, bottles, furniture and other objects in a riot that ended today with 91 arrests as police and National Guardsmen patrolled the predominantly Negro Central State University campus.

At least 10 Ohio highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies were injured, mostly by thrown objects, authorities said. Most of the injuries were minor, but one patrolman suffered a broken leg.

The Greene County sheriff's office said between 300 and 400 students were involved. Several of those arrested also complained of injuries.

About 600 National Guardsmen moved into the area Monday night to help put down the riot. About half moved onto the campus and the others were on standby at the county fairgrounds four miles away.

Capt. Dwight Carey of the highway patrol said classes would be held today but that no other student congregations would be permitted.

Several fires, most of them minor, were reported on and off the campus. The display window was shot out of a furniture store two miles from campus and a fire caused damage to a grocery at Xenia, four miles from the campus. The highway patrol reported 12 of its patrol cars and three sheriff's cars damaged.

The disturbance started at mid-morning Monday along with the return to the campus of an expelled student, Michael Warren, 23, of Cleveland.

He had been ordered off the campus last week after allegedly threatening harm to President Rembert Stokes of neighboring Wilberforce University, also a predominantly Negro school.

Upon his return, several other students quickly joined him in barricading themselves in a classroom. Classroom chairs, tables and other furniture and equipment was thrown out of the room, some of it broken.

Warren later left the campus and was arrested several hours later at Yellow Springs, eight miles north of the campus.

All of those arrested were jailed in Xenia.

Municipal Court Judge Joseph L. Hagler said 88 of those taken into custody would be charged with disorderly conduct and be eligible for release on bonds of $25 each. Warren, the judge said, would face a trespassing count that carries a $100 bond.

Wages—A new round of big wage increase demands would develop. The wave has been subsiding, though new settlements still average about 5 per cent and the Ford Motor Co. settlement was around 6 per cent.

Officials predict privately that a congressional delay on tax action of three or four months, permitting prices to spurt, could set off another union drive to "catch up with living costs" and revive the wage-price spiral.

Profits—Profits after taxes would climb to a record high. The proposed 10 per cent surtax on corporations, on the other hand, might cancel out the gain and leave profits below the 1966 peak of $82.2 billion.

Production—A typical current forecast, assuming a tax increase, is for national output to increase by $60 billion to above $440 billion. Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisors says the rise would be $75 billion if there is no tax increase—an expansion rate fast enough, he said, to cause overheating and trouble.

Even if the surtax takes effect Jan. 1 as Johnson has urged, many economists believe inflation will cut family buying power in 1968 by as much as 3 cents on the dollar.

The consumer price index now stands at a record 117.1 per cent of the 1957-9 average. That means it now costs a typical city family $117.10 to buy what it could get for $100 less than 10 years ago.

A suit for $179,540 has been filed in Hempstead Circuit Court by the widow of Jim Moore, constable of Fulton, who was killed in a truck-car collision on Highway 67 just west of Fulton in October 25.

The suit for damages is against the Parker Bros. Farming Co. of Miller County, whose truck was involved in the accident.

Police said Samuel Richard Surber, 38, the woman's husband, shot his wife, killed another woman and then shot himself in the head.

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economists in the government, and many outside it, predict today's consumer dollar may be worth about 95 cents this time next year if taxes are not raised soon.

The forecasts of most college and corporation economists show solid agreement that inflation is a serious threat. They sound, in fact, much like the speeches being given by President Johnson's aides in behalf of his 10 per cent income tax surcharge proposal.

But there is far less unanimity among industry economists that the surtax is the only answer. Sharp spending cuts or vigorous credit restraint are favored by many.

But most favor some kind of tax action, perhaps in combination with other curbs on demand. And an informal canvass of economic opinion—inside and outside the government on the record and off the record—produces this consensus of what 1968 may be like if there is no tax increase:

Prices — The increase is guessed at between 4 and 6 per cent for consumer prices and around 3 per cent for industrial commodities.

Many say such speculation is academic, since in the absence of a tax increase there would be heavy credit restraints or a spending clampdown, or both, if the living cost increase hit a 5 per cent rate for any prolonged period.

Interest — The government might have to pay 6 per cent interest on its bonds. High-grade corporate borrowers, already paying 6 per cent and up, could find themselves paying 8 or 9 per cent.

Credit supply — Many smaller borrowers would find credit unobtainable, in any practical sense, because of heavy government borrowing to finance a potential $28 billion deficit—and because the Federal Reserve Board would be forced to turn the tight-money screws. Mortgage funds would dry up. Home-building industry leaders fear there would be a housing recession.

Wages — A new round of big wage increase demands would develop. The wave has been subsiding, though new settlements still average about 5 per cent and the Ford Motor Co. settlement was around 6 per cent.

Officials predict privately that a congressional delay on tax action of three or four months, permitting prices to spurt, could set off another union drive to "catch up with living costs" and revive the wage-price spiral.

Defectors Are Sought in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese police hunted at U.S. request today for four missing American Navy men who criticized U.S. policies in Vietnam and said they wanted to defect to a country not involved in the conflict.

There was speculation the quartet might have taken refuge in a foreign embassy, as another GI opponent of the war did earlier this year.

Authorities concentrated their search in Tokyo's bookstodistrict near the headquarters of the Japan Peace for Vietnam Committee which was believed sheltering the Americans. Police said they had several "slim clues" but would not elaborate.

The four crewmen from the aircraft carrier Intrepid, which is operating off Vietnam, were presented by the committee in a filmed interview Monday. They said they sought "political asylum in Japan or any other country not engaged in the war."

They were identified as Airman John M. Barilla, 20, of Cantonville, Ill.; Airman Richard D. Bailey, 19, Jacksonville, Fla.; Airman Appren, Michael A. Lindner, 19 Mount Pocono, Pa., and Airman Appren, Craig W. Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif.

The Navy said the sailors had been AWOL since Oct. 23, two days before the Intrepid left Yokosuka after an eight-day recreational visit.

U.S. officials said the four had military identification cards but no military traveling orders that would permit them to board planes leaving Japan. They also did not have U.S. passports.

Kenneth C. Criggs of Boise, Idaho deserted on April 3 while on leave from Vietnam and took refuge in the Cuban Embassy. He is believed still there. The Cubans have turned down Japanese requests for his extradition, saying he has been granted political asylum.

Antipoverty Prospects Brighten With Some Republican Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Support from urban Republicans for the antipoverty program brightens prospects for House passage of the controversial legislation without major change, although Southern Democrats remain to be heard from.

With 20 moderate Republicans supplying the crucial votes—and most Southerners not participating—the House defeated 159 to 149 Monday a GOP-led attempt to reduce authorized funds for the program from $2.06 billion to $1.4 billion.

The House then went on to turn back a string of amendments from Republicans aimed at changing the operation of the Job Corps. The only amendment adopted all day would eliminate a second-year authorization for the program.

The action encouraged Democratic leaders to hope for continued success in preserving the Neighborhood Youth Corps and Community Action programs against amendment when voting resumes today.

The relative ease with which the amendments were defeated admittedly surprised Democratic supporters of the bill and they were quick to give credit to Republicans who joined them.

Despite strong appeals from the GOP leadership for support of the amendment cutting the spending authorization by $660 million, Republicans from New York, New England, Michigan and Ohio opposed it. The vote was taken by counting members and no roll call was taken of individual votes.

Before the House takes final action on the bill, probably late Wednesday, the Republicans will have another chance to cut the money. Then it will be on the record with a roll call and the result could be different.

If so it will be because Southern Democrats will feel compelled to vote for what they regard as an economy measure.

The absence of the Southerners Monday was in accord with an informal agreement reached with the bill's backers to refrain from helping the Republicans with their amendments.

But on a roll call to reduce spending they will probably insist on being recorded in favor of the Republican position.

To offset the defections from their own party, Democrats are hoping to pick up as many as 40 Republicans and it may be enough to keep the funding provision intact.

The issue of money is more apparent than real in the present bill, anyway. The actual funds for the program will have to be appropriated by separate legislation and Chairman George H. Mahon of the House Appropriations Committee has already announced he will go no higher than $1.6 billion.

The Saratoga Title I program will include reading under instruction and clothing, food, health and school social work under personal services.

Moore said that the Saratoga allocation was based on the number of economically disadvantaged children in the district. It is used for remedial, supplementary and personal services as needed by the individual child to enable him to overcome learning handicaps so that he may achieve at a normal level.
